What is high voltage ceramic capacitor?

High voltage ceramic capacitors have been widely used and the status of light in the LED lamp industry, high voltage ceramic capacitor with high dielectric constant ceramic capacitor on a titanium oxide, barium titanate is extruded into round tube, disc or disc as the medium, and the sintering method of silver plating on ceramics as electrode made.

What is a ceramic capacitor?

Ceramic capacitors two, line type are offbeat AC ceramic capacitors, that is, generally refers to the 250VAC Y2 safety capacitor, and the 400VAC Y1 AC safety capacitors. It is obvious from the name that the voltage of this kind of capacitor is the AC voltage, and it is safe to have about ten countries.

What are TDK's high-voltage ceramic capacitors?

TDK offers high-voltage ceramic capacitors in their UHV and FHV series. These capacitors feature low dissipation and excellent voltage-capacitance characteristics, using patented strontium titanate (SrTiO_3) for dielectric material. They are epoxy-encapsulated for high-voltage applications.

What is the dielectric constant of zkv/s high voltage ceramic capacitor?

With the gap length G (wafer radius and electrode radius difference) relationship. The diameter of the capacitor is 18mm, and the dielectric constant of the material is 1460 "A". Test conditions for 25 DEG C, applying the 50Hz AC voltage, the voltage rise rate of ZkV/s high voltage ceramic capacitor characteristics:

Who makes high voltage capacitors?

High Voltage, Ceramic, Capacitors manufactured by Vishay, a global leader for semiconductors and passive electronic components.

What are the test conditions for zkv/s high voltage ceramic capacitor?

Test conditions for 25 DEG C, applying the 50Hz AC voltage, the voltage rise rate of ZkV/s high voltage ceramic capacitor characteristics: Commonly used in high pressure occasions. III ceramics, the dielectric constant is high, so the capacity can be very large, but the temperature and voltage characteristics are not good.
