What if my Hoa prohibits solar panels?

The Solar Rights Act is a set of laws in many states that protects homeowners' right to install solar panels on their property. If your HOA prohibits solar panels and you feel that this regulation violates your rights, you can fight back by contacting the local government and requesting mediation.

What are solar access laws?

Solar Access Laws Solar access laws are generally found in state statutes and ensure that HOAs cannot strictly prohibit solar panel systems in their subdivision. On the other hand, they often permit HOAs to impose "reasonable restrictions" on the system.

Should homeowners associations regulate solar panels?

Homeowner associations (HOAs) across the country should be aware of the bounds of their authority for regulating installation of solar panel systems on members' homes. Mastering this delicate balance will help HOAs maintain both aesthetics and property value while, to some degree, honoring the individualized wishes of their residents.

How do HOAs regulate solar panels?

Each state has its own set of laws regarding solar access, which can influence how HOAs govern solar panel installations. For instance, some states have "solar easement provisions" that limit the ability of HOAs to restrict solar installations outright. Federal laws also play a role, particularly through policies that encourage renewable energy.
